MATRIMONIAL.

A marriage license was issued yesterday from the office of County Clerk Pearce Paton to Hubert N. Parl, 27, traveling salesman of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Miss Elizabeth Hedges, 22, of Paris.

ARKLE—PEDDICORD

Miss Emma Arkle, of Lexington, and Jack Peddicord, of Paris, were married last week at the residence of the officiating minister, pastor of one of the Covington Methodist churches.

The wedding was a complete surprise to friends and relatives of the young people. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Thomas Arkle, of Lexington, former residents of Paris. They will make their home in Paris.

JACOBY—WARE

William T. Ware and Miss Elsie Jacoby, both of Bourbon county, secured marriage license in Lexington, Tuesday afternoon, and were united in marriage at eight o'clock that evening at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Benjamin Jay Bush, of Lexington.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jacoby, of near Hutchison, this county. The groom is the son of Dr. J. T. Ware, and a grandson of Mrs. Alice Ware, of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Ware will make their home in Danville, where the groom has recently gone in the drug business.

HAYNES—MEYER

Paris friends have received the following announcements: "Mrs. H. D. Haynes, of Fernbank, Ohio, announces the engagement of her daughter, Eleanor, to Mr. J. Arthur Meyer, of Fernbank. The wedding will take place in the early part of June."

Miss Haynes is well-known in Paris, where she has been a frequent visitor. Her mother was formerly Miss Ella Trundle, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Trundle, of Paris. Her father, the late H. D. Haynes, was for several years resident manager for the Paris Distilling Co., but moved to Cincinnati, where he engaged in business. Mr. Meyer is a prominent attorney in Cincinnati.

LAFKOWITZ—GUTTMAN

The marriage of M. E. Guttman, of Paris, and Miss Rebecca Lafkowitz, of Columbus, Georgia, was quietly solemnized at the Jewish Tabernacle, in that city, on Easter Sunday. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Rosenthal.

The bridegroom, Mr. Guttman, is one of the owners of The Leader Store, in this city, recently opened in the building formerly occupied by Harry Simon. He is an enterprising and amiable gentleman, and has made a host of friends here who congratulate him on his choice of a

PARIS STYLE SHOW, APRIL 5TH AND 6TH

All the arrangements have practically been completed for the Spring Style Show, which is to be held at the Paris Grand Opera House, on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 5 and 6, by the merchants of Paris, under auspices of the Paris Commercial Club. A page display advertisement setting forth many of the features of the project show will be found on page four of this issue of THE NEWS.

All roads, including the projected Dixie Highway, are expected to lead to Paris on these days, and those who attend the style show will go away praising the enterprise of the Paris merchants who participated. Local clothing and furnishing houses, dealers in mens' furnishings, shoes, the local milliners and ready-to-wear houses are preparing displays for this exhibit that will fairly astonish the patrons and visitors with their magnificence and beauty, as well as the class displayed in the products. Living models and manikins will be used for the purpose of showing these displays, and other effects will be used for the purpose of bringing to the attention of the people the high character of the displays.

Besides these displays a moving picture play, entitled, "Clothes," will be shown at The Grand, which will be in itself a fashion show. The film characters are taken by an all-star cast. The event, altogether, will be one of the best of its kind that has ever been put on in any Central Kentucky town.

BOURBON COUNTY FARM BUREAU SETS PRICES

At a recent meeting of the Executive Board of the Bourbon County Farm Bureau it was decided to set a price for shearing sheep throughout the county. Owing to the fact that the farmers will not realize much on their wool, the Board thought it was no more than fair that the price for shearing sheep should be lowered. The price that was agreed upon is ten cents per fleece for that cut by hand and fifteen cents cut with the clippers, put in the sack. The Board hopes that this meets with the approval of the farmers and that they will abide by these prices.

COLD SNAP DISASTROUS TO FRUIT CROPS

Damage to the Kentucky fruit is estimated to exceed $5,000,000 and may run much higher.

Experts at College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, say practically all fruit in bloom or bud—peaches, cherries, early apples and early plums—has been killed.

The value of the apple, pear and peach crops alone in 1920 was placed at more than $9,000,000 by the Federal Bureau of Crop Estimates despite a frost in April.

Growers in Henderson county, leading apple county of the State, estimate their loss between $200,000 and $300,000.

Heavy damage to early gardens also reported.

According to advices received from well-posted persons in various parts of Bourbon county, the freeze of Monday night in which the thermometer registered a drop of thirty degrees, is the most disastrous of any in recent years. Practically all vegetation is killed or at least seriously retarded in growth and development. Cherry and other fruit trees, which had begun to bud dropped their blooms frozen. Leaves of trees and bushes crumpled under the withering influence of frost and cold and flowers left exposed were soon blackened as if scorched by fire.

According to Bourbon county farmers grazing will be seriously injured, owing to the freezing of the tender young shoots of blue grass. Young March lambs suffered considerably throughout the county, a number that had been left out in the open being found frozen.

Damage to the Kentucky fruit is estimated to exceed $5,000,000 and may run much higher. Experts at College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, say practically all fruit in bloom or bud—peaches, cherries, early apples and early plums—have been killed. The value of the apple, pear and peach crops alone in 1920 was placed at more than $9,000,000, despite a frost in April.

Grapes, strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, in fact all berry crops and late apples seemed to have escaped the general destruction visited on the fruit crop of Kentucky by the severe freeze of Monday night.

Dean Thomas P. Cooper, head of the Kentucky Experiment Station, said that from reports received at the station from various parts of Central, Northern and Western Kentucky that the worst fears of damage to the fruit crop have been confirmed. These reports indicate that practically all of the early blooming fruits, such as peaches, pears, plums, early apples and most of the cherries have been killed in the bud.

PROBABLE INCREASE OF 40 PER CENT ON THE PARIS WATER RENTALS

TO THE WATER CONSUMERS OF PARIS:

We understand the Paris Water Company will demand on the first day of April an increase of 40 per cent. on water rentals, which increase we have cause to believe is unnecessary and unjust.

In order to fully ascertain the income of the Paris Water Company we have selected canvassers who will call upon all water consumers in the city of Paris within the next few days and obtain from the consumers the amount of money expended for water rental during the year 1920.

We would request each and every consumer to have together the amounts of money expended for water rentals during the year in order to furnish our canvassers with this information at once and not cause them to make unnecessary trips. This assistance on the part of the consumers will be of great benefit to the canvassers and to the undersigned.

At the proper time we will take the necessary legal steps to prohibit the increase being made in water rentals. In the meantime we would request each and every consumer to refuse to pay the increased rentals, but tender to the Paris Water Company the amount under the old rates.

We will keep the public advised of future developments and ask their assistance and co-operation in this matter.

LICKING VALLEY AND BLUE GRASS REROUTING MEETING

Rain prevented as large a meeting as was expected of the Licking Valley and Bluegrass Retrouting Association, at Cynthiana. Ten delegates attended from Covington, twelve from Falmouth and sixteen from Paris. These guests, with the officers and directors of the Business Men's Club, Fiscal Court and other invited guests, were served luncheon in the Northcott building by the Harrison County Women's Club, after which a meeting was held at Roh's Opera House.

Judge George Batterton, Paris; E. B. Sayers, Covington, and Judge T. E. King, Harrison, addressed the meeting. Sentiment showed that the association did not expect that the Dixie Highway should be brought through Kenton, Pendleton, Harrison and Bourbon counties, but the purpose of the organization is to give to the traveling public a good road from Cincinnati to Lexington by this route.

Surveys showed that along Grassy Creek in Pendleton county, a new road of three miles must be made to connect with the proposed Licking Valley and Blue Grass route. In order that sufficient funds might be secured to build this strip of road a committee composed of Harvey Myers, Covington; Judge George Batterton, Bourbon county; J. R. Jones, Harrison county; E. B. Sayers and Maurice Galvin, Kenton county, was made to appear before the Chamber of Commerce, Automobile Club of Cincinnati, and Lexington Men's Business Club, to ask assistance from Pendleton county in this undertaking.

The following from Paris attended the meeting as delegates: Mayor E. B. January, Charles A. Duncan, Robert M. Johnson, Fred Link, Newton Smith, Lawrence Price, R. C. Ruggles, Rudolph Davis, Wm. E. Hacker, M. Peale Collier, Judge Geo. Batterton, J. Withers Davis and I. W. Bush.

Judge Batterton told of Bourbon's excellent condition, having its main line practically rebuilt and under State care, and the commission of business men who serve as road commissioners without pay, giving practically their whole time to it. He spoke of the added value to farm lands afforded by good roads, the benefit to all the people, and hoped that this point would be stressed. Judge Batterton suggested that as Pendleton seemed in difficulty about having enough money to do her part in reconstruction this year, it might be a good idea to present the matter to the business men and commercial organizations of Cincinnati and Lexington, with a view to securing their help and arousing their interest. He pointed out that those two cities were vitally concerned in a first-class road through this section, and felt that they would readily see the advantage.

OIL STOCKHOLDERS CALLED ON FOR PAYMENT

Holders of stock in the Bourbon Oil & Development Co., and its associate company, the Co-operative Land and Development Co., are worried over receipt of a letter received from a Lexington attorney representing C. C. Bosworth, receiver for the two companies, informing them of an indebtedness to the two companies and requesting immediate payment.

According to statements made by Paris citizens who had invested in the stock of the two companies, C. L. Bell, organizer of the concerns, came to Paris about two years ago, and announced he was organizing the Bourbon Oil and Development Co., which held leases that promised substantial returns. It was stated here that he disposed of several hundred shares of stock at the par value of one dollar, to various persons for the purpose of ten cents per share. Practically all of this stock has changed hands several times since then.

Holders of the stock obtained at ten cents or more per share less than the par value of one dollar, declare they will organize to fight the payment. The stock is being held by hundreds of Paris citizens, and Bourbon county farmers, including merchants, laborers, seamstresses and others, and many will be unable to meet the present demands of the receiver. Amounts are involved running from a few dollars to several thousands.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ACTIVITIES.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Paris Commercial Club Monday night it was voted that the Club should stand the expenses of a test suit to determine whether the Paris Water Company is entitled to an increase in water rates. A committee composed of Catesby W. Spears, M. Peale Collier and B. M. Renick, was appointed by President E. H. Gorey to take charge of the case for the Commercial Club and the water consumers of the city of Paris.

The directors met with a committee from the City Council, composed of Mayor January, City Attorney Dundon, James H. Moreland, N. Ford Brent and George Doyle. The Water Company had announced a raise in water rates to become effective on January 1. The increase was not included on the bills for the first quarter of the year, due to a request from the city for time in which to investigate the Water Company's financial condition. The investigation has not yet been completed, and the company has announced that the increase for the next quarter retroactive to January 1 will be included on the April 1 settlements.

The directors of the Club decided to offer medals to the winners of the High School athletic meet to be held in Paris, April 29 and 30, at which twenty-eight Kentucky High Schools will be represented.

The noon day luncheon held by the Club Tuesday was fully up to the standards of the ones held previously. Rev. Arthur Fox, pastor of the Baptist church, presided as toastmaster. Rev. M. B. Adams, president of Georgetown College, was the speaker of the day. Dr. Adams complimented the people of Paris on having a real livewire Commercial Club in their midst, and delivered an inspiring talk on "The Economics of Community Effort." He was followed by J. F. DeMarr, representing the Y. M. C. A. Correspondence School. Before introducing the speaker of the day Rev. Fox started the rotary introduction plan whereby each person introduced the one on his right hand. The banquet was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star and the Womans' Class of the Christian Sunday School. About eighty guests were present.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF BOURBON COUNTY.

Ladies and Gentlemen: On account of my being so busy with my school duties it will be practically impossible for me to see you until much later date, I therefore take this method to bring to your earnest attention my candidacy for the office of County Clerk.

For the past three years I have served you as Superintendent of Public Schools, and to my record in this office I point with some degree of honest pride.

I have not been able to accomplish everything for which I have worked, but I have guarded the educational interest of your boy and your girl with my best effort. I have been actuated by the idea that every boy and every girl in Bourbon county should have the best possible opportunity to make the most of his or her life, and I have tried to give them this opportunity.

I fully realize that you are under no obligation to me for having done my duty, and I want to genuinely thank you for your hearty co-operation; and I do want to tell you that you will never have an opportunity to cast a vote where it will be so sincerely appreciated.

I also want to tell you how much I shall appreciate your influence and active help in your community with your neighbors, as my success in whatever I undertake depends largely upon the attitude of my friends and neighbors.

Think of me before you pledge your support; withhold your decision until you can give me a chance to talk it over with you, or at least kindly give me your conscientious consideration and I assure you the kindness shall never be forgotten.

Truly your friend,
Adv. J. B. CAYWOOD.

BOURBON CIRCUIT COURT

No court was held Monday, Judge Stout and Commonwealth's Attorney Bradley, as well as jurors, witnesses and court officials, taking the Easter holidays.

The entire time of the Court was taken up Tuesday in trial of the case of Edward F. Prichard vs. Margolen Bros., of Paris. The plaintiff sued for $1,430.30, which he alleged he lost as the result of the defendants refusing to abide by an alleged contract in purchasing butcher cattle from the plaintiff. The case went to the jury in the late afternoon. At five o'clock they came into Court and stated they were unable to agree on a verdict, and were ordered to resume consideration of the case Wednesday morning. They again reported a disagreement and were discharged. The case will probably come up for a new trial at another term of Court.

Court convened session yesterday. The case of David Myner against Dewey Jackson for damages alleged to have been sustained in an automobile accident, was decided in favor of Myner, who was given judgment for $1,250. The case of Hughes vs. Boardman was then taken up.

THE HOME TOWN PAPER

The magazine from here and there
That's full of snappy tales,
The City News with flagrant yarns
Of men who fill our jails,
With headlines bold, sensational,
Of some new holdup caper—
Each has its place, but first of all
Give me the Home Town Paper.

To me it means a whole lot more
Than just the weekly news,
Or comments on the nation's plight,
Or editorial views—
The joys and sorrows of the folks
I know and love are there,
The folks who know and love me,
Whose experiences I share.

The calling home of some dear friends,
Or where the stork has been—
The doings of the people
I am interested in
These are the things which build for me
My little world each day;
Cause folks at home mean more to me
That facts from far away.

I read with pride of some home boy
Who's out to make his name
And now is climbing step by step
The stairs that lead to fame.
It pleases me to read about
Improvements that are made
And how each merchant does his best
To build up local trade.

The magazines can tell us
All about the Isle of Yap,
But our home paper strives to keep
Our village on the map—
So when the worth-while things of life
Are being handed out
The Home Town Paper first of all
I want to have about.

CALL DOWN FROM THE SAGE OF FLEMING.

Uncle Hiram Duley, editor of The Flemingsburg Time-Democrat, in the last issue of his paper, "calls down" editor Wm. Remington, of the Paris Democrat, for a statement which was published in all the other Paris papers as well. Uncle Hiram lived in the old days of which he writes, and ought to know more about it than we younger fellows of the press. Uncle Hiram writes, under the head of "Some Queer History."

"Our usually correct friend Wm. Remington, of the Paris Democrat, has certainly been imposed upon by some one, for we find the item printed below as part of the notice of the death of our old and esteemed friend, Nathan H. Bayless, who died last week at his home in Paris at the age of 86:

"Mr. Bayless is said to have been the last person to buy a slave before President Lincoln freed the negroes in 1865. Mr. Bayless was in Georgia selling horses and mules, and when a negro man was put up at auction he bought him for $1,500. The same day the negroes were freed but he paid for the man."

"Now, in fact, the negroes were freed in 1863, not in 1865, and at that time Mr. Bayless was not in Georgia selling horses and mules, as Uncle Sam would not permit Kentucky horse traders to furnish the South with horses and mules, at least not to any great extent. The only way the South had to get Kentucky horses was to come after them as John Morgan and Pete Everett used to do. Brother Remington will please revise that history of his."

BLOOD PROOF OF PARENTAGE

Test Ordered by San Francisco Judge for First Time in History of American Courts.

San Francisco.—For the first time in American courts parentage has been determined by a blood test.

On the strength of a formal report made by Dr. Albert Abrams, who, by blood tests, found that Virginia Vittori was the daughter of Paul Vittori, Judge Thomas F. Graham ordered Vittori to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court for failure to pay alimony for the support of the child. Mrs. Vittori is suing for a divorce. Vittori declared that the child was not his, and the court ordered a blood test by Doctor Abrams.

Doctor Abrams in his report said: "The examination proved conclusively that the blood of the daughter corresponded racially to that of the father and mother, viz., Italian on the father's side and Spanish and French on the mother's side, in proportion approximately to three of the former to one of the latter, French. Furthermore, the vibratory rate of the child corresponded to that of the father."

The vibratory test is one of the most delicate known to medical science.

DEMAND SUFFRAGE IN JAVA

Upper Class Native Women Reported to Be Making Rapid Strides Toward Emancipation.

Amsterdam.—Woman's suffrage movements have reached the Dutch East Indies, the colonies whose history and ancient savagery were chiefly known to credulous Americans through the agency of circus side-shows, wherein the "Wild Man of Borneo" and "The Terrible Dyaks, Feroocious Head Hunting Cannibals," drew many dimes while the crowds waited for the "big tent" to open.

Head hunting and kindred savage pastimes still continue, to some extent, within the jungles of these Dutch islands, but, according to the Dutch press, most of the natives are rapidly adopting modern theories.

In Java, the upper class native women, under leadership of Raden Adjeng Kartini, a woman of high birth, are reported to be making rapid strides toward emancipation, although the Mohammedan custom of polygamy still prevails. In all the "Kartini schools" the girls of the upper classes are being taught Occidental theories of equality with the men. Dutch correspondents say the progress of the movement is necessarily slow, but appears to be certain of ultimate success.

One Little Pig Is Cause of Furore

Cincinnati.—This little pig went to market, and this little pig stayed at home," and this is a story about a little pig that didn't want to do either, and in its efforts to get out of staying home and going to market caused a Cincinnati fire department to go clanging away on a fruitless trip.

The pig was in a pen in the Meyer packing house. It got out, and soon had a throng of employees chasing it madly around. The pig rebounded here and there in the factory, finally coming full tilt against an automatic fire alarm. An engine company, hook and ladder and the district fire marshal responded. Also a great number of citizens, who for the time being were disengaged.

The pig eventually was corralled, with the aid of the citizens.

KITTEN BETRAYS "BURGLAR"

Californians Find Little Intruder Under Bed When Pet Utters "Me-ow."

San Francisco.—The littlest burglar was caught in the act at San Mateo. The act that the burglar was caught in was sleeping, and it was a kitten—the burglar's own—that led to the discovery.

The burglar was Adeline Sanchez, seven years old.

Mrs. W. E. Tolley of San Mateo awoke at an early hour in a burglar's fright. She called her husband. They switched on the lights, armed, searched, and gave it up. Returning to their bedroom, they heard a meow. It came from under the bed. They looked and found Adeline sound asleep on the floor, with her kitten in her arms.

They turned her over to Probation Officer Francis T. Rapp, who found that Adeline lives with her grandmother at San Mateo and has run away nearly every night for a month.

Wants to Pay Old Bills.

Nortonville, Kan.—After being absent from Nortonville for 20 years, John J. Sheeran writes from California that he wishes to atone for his wrongs by paying all his unpaid bills in Nortonville. Sheeran says in his letter that he realizes now that "nothing spotted or unclean can gain heaven," and that he had made scandal and desires forgiveness of those he has wronged. He indicates that if he does not get the bills in a certain length of time he will give the amount or more to charity.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The local Y. M. C. A. is to be congratulated on securing the services of an expert in vocational guidance. Modern psychology has made one of its greatest contributions to the business world in this line. Business men in recent years have added to their staffs experts in character analysis for developing the efficiency of their plants.

Paris young people should take advantage of the opportunity of interviewing Mr. DeMar regarding their business aptitudes.

Mr. J. F. DeMar, of the United Y. M. C. A. Correspondence Schools, is in Paris for the purpose of assisting the educational committee of the Y. M. C. A., in enrolling students in the various correspondence courses.

On Tuesday night Mr. DeMar explained to a large attendance of interested persons courses in commerce, accounting, banking and business law. Wednesday night he expounded mechanical and automobile courses. Last night was given over to civil engineering and architectural drawing. To-night he will explain courses in agriculture. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. Women as well as men are eligible to enroll in the courses and are invited to attend the meeting.

In connection with the educational talks Mr. DeMar will give a demonstration in character analysis. He has had extended experience in this and in the work of vocational guidance. For three years he was a member of the educational staff of the West Side Y. M. C. A. in New York, meeting thousands of young men who came to him for advice on vocational problems. He was president of the Character Analysis Club of New York City and a lecturer in Dr. Blackford's course.

Mr. DeMar will be at the Y. M. C. A. building for conference daily from 12:30 to 2:00 p. m., and from 6:30 to 9:00 p. m.

TELLS PARIS MAYOR, "DON'T GET PEEVED"

Some time ago Mayor E. B. January, of Paris, addressed a communication to the Lexington Herald, in which he stated his views regarding the re-routing of the Dixie Highway. The Georgetown News reprints the Mayor's letter, with the following comment added:

"EDITORIAL NOTE: Don't be peeved, Mayor January. You are not the first man nor the only man that has failed to realize his ambitions. You simply undertook a job that was too big for your power. When your committee appears before the National Dixie Highway Committee, as you indicate that it will, I imagine that you would be worse disappointed than, as it appears from your letter to The Herald, you are now.

"You are a fighter all right. We admire your nerve, but it seems that in this one instance at least, you are not expressing that good judgment that you usually display in other important matters. You might as well undertake to change the course of the beautiful Licking river as to change the routing of the Dixie Highway from the old historical route that it now traverses.

"We people on the Dixie Highway are for good roads and we will rejoice with you when your Licking Valley and Blue Grass Highway has become a reality but for goodness sake don't try to adopt the name of our road and wrest from us the prospect of government aid. That hurts our toes and we are compelled to squeal."

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Paris People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first;

But if you find 'tis from the kidneys;

That serious kidney troubles may follow;

That dropsy or Bright's disease may be the fatal end;

You will be glad to know the following experience.

'Tis the statement of a Paris citizen.

Mrs. A. T. Alexander, 720 Vine street, says: "A few years ago I had an attack of kidney trouble and for a time I was unable to do my housework because of the severe pains across the center of my back. Many a night I couldn't get a wink of sleep on account of the misery in my back. My feet and ankles would swell so badly that I would have to wear large bedroom slippers. I had pains in the top and through the back of my head, too. As soon as I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I got relief, and I am pleased to recommend them."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Alexander had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

Chinese Roast Pork Supreme.

The Chinese are ahead of the world in the preparation of roast pork for the table. After it has come out of the oven, it is hung in the smoke of various aromatic herbs, which gives it a delicious flavor and robs it of the porky taste which is offensive to some palates.

It's Worth Trying.

Don't blame the man who fools himself by keeping his biggest bill on the outside of his roll—if he really fools himself.

In many of the government offices in London the clerks now are permitted to smoke while at work.

IMPROVED POSTAL SERVICE

Postmaster General Will H. Hays is going to put "heart" into the postal employees of the country and at the same time is going to take "politics" and "profit" out of the postal service.

"The postal establishment is not an institution for profit or politics," Mr. Hays stated. "It is an institution for service and every effort shall be made to improve that service."

Twenty-five million dollars is to be spent in widening a section of London's famous thoroughfare, the Strand.

Business is Good

Our January and February business was good. In fact, it practically equaled our best January and February in the last four years.

Ford prices are low—the big price reductions have been made in anticipation of continuous maximum factory production and increases may be necessary if a large volume of new business is not obtained. Therefore, present prices of Ford products cannot be guaranteed against possible INCREASES.

On account of recent curtailment in production we anticipate a shortage of Ford cars in a few weeks. This shortage has already developed in certain models.

PALMER'S BEER RULING MAY STAND O. K.

Definite announcement that former Attorney General R. Mitchell Palmer's opinion permitting physicians to prescribe beer for medical purposes would stand unless Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon should ask for a review was made by Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty.

In connection with the possible transfer of the prohibition enforcement bureau from the treasury to the Department of Justice as a part of a general reorganization of Government departments, the Attorney General said he was not seeking any additional authority, but would accept such responsibilities as Congress might place upon him.

Creation of a single intelligence department to do the investigating work of the Government was advocated by the Attorney General. Such a bureau, he said, would give the Government a very efficient set of men who could be assigned to the various departments as needed.

EMBROIDERED SUITS

Although embroidered suits have many rivals with less decoration, they are well represented in spring displays. Embroideries are in the color of the suit, usually, with metal threads introduced among them.

NEAT SLIP-ON SWEATER

Interest still centers on sweaters and sweater coats—for everybody wears them. These garments of wool or silk are closely or loosely knitted—according to the degree of warmth required of them. Tie-on and slip-on models that set snugly to the figure rival the smart loose-hanging sweater-coats and everything appears to be provided with a knitted girdle or sash. The pretty model pictured reveals the trend toward neat effects.

BECOMING TO MATRONS

The fine art of dressing up to one's age demands dignified, brilliant and beautiful hats for middle life. Matrons wear such lovely and flattering bits of millinery as the hat at the top of the group above with braid crown and malines brim in brown. A wreath of metallic silk roses interspersed with grasses livens it with rich color. The hat at the left is a favorite shape with up-rolling brim and a soft crown of silk braid.

IN FASHION'S MIRROR

The character of wrap most admired for spring is shown in the illustration above. It is a compromise between a cape and a coat with a strong flavor of the former. Fashion's mirror reflects many capes—pure and simple—and many coats, embodying more or less the lines of capes.

Poet's Pat Quotation.

A lady wrote to Tennyson asking him for his autograph and a sentiment. Receiving no reply, she wrote again, and followed this by request after request. The protracted meeting being conducted at the Christian church by Evangelist Yuell, will come to a close to-night. The meetings have been remarkably successful, and have been the means of a large number of additions to the church. Under the direction of Miss Hughes, pianist, who is assisting Rev. Yuell, a Sunbeam Chorus composed of children of the church, has been organized, in two sections, the Blues and the Reds. A contest is being staged between the two sections, the loser to entertain the winner. The Blues, losing, tendered a banquet at the Opera House yesterday afternoon to the Reds.

FALSE FIRE ALARM

The Fire Department was called out Tuesday night by an alarm from Box 21. Both motor trucks responded, but, on arriving at the box, found it to be a false alarm, there being no fire in the vicinity. A heavy penalty for turning in a false alarm of fire is provided for such cases, but so far no one has ever been apprehended. If one should happen to be caught in the act, there should be something administered as punishment besides a fine.

THOMAS, WOODFORD & BRYAN
SCHUMANN-HEINK AT WOODLAND AUDITORIUM, LEXINGTON

Schumann-Heink, who will be the next to give a concert in the Artist Concert Series at Woodland Auditorium, Saturday, April 2, is the subject of an article in a musical magazine, which says that her popularity is ever on the increase. The famous diva is drawing near the end of her third season, yet her admirers all over the country look forward each year to her appearance. This season she has appeared before tremendous audiences everywhere and has been the recipient of well-earned ovations from coast to coast. Even now her devotees in America are anticipating her return next season, when she will be fresh from success in the Orient. Japanese music lovers eagerly await her appearance there this summer, for the newspapers have not spared themselves in heralding her visit. With such a kindred feeling for the diva all over the globe it is not surprising that she calls herself the happiest youngster in the world. Seats for the Schumann-Heink concert are on sale at the Ben Ali Theatre.

The New York Philharmonic Orchestra, America's oldest and best, will come to Lexington for a concert at Woodland Auditorium, Monday, April 4, at 8:15 in the evening, with Josef Strinsky as conductor, Henry Hadley Associate conductor, and Frease-Green, prima donna Soprano, as soloist. The development of the ensemble is remarkably intertwined with the magnetism, conscientious effort and interpretative genius of its leader. Mr. M. Strinsky has brought the orchestra to the highest point of efficiency it has ever attained, not attained by any rivals. Madam Frease Green has a brilliant, youthful, resonant voice, with fine, tragic appearance and abundant resource in florid passages. This is the fourth and last concert in the Artist Series for this season. Tickets can be secured by telephoning (639x) to the Lexington College of Music. Box office sale began at Ben Ali Theatre ticket office Wednesday. Theatre telephone number is 332. (adv)

BANKERS WARNED AGAINST ALLOWING OVERDRAFTS

In a circular letter sent to all of the State banks, James P. Lewis, State Banking Commissioner, says there is a spirit of optimism tempered by conservative and good business judgment among the Kentucky bankers.

The only criticism Commissioner Lewis found with the banks is relative to overdrafts. The banking department, he said, regards them as a thorn in the flesh of the banking business. In urging the banks to eliminate overdrafts Commissioner Lewis said:

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. ## WOMEN WHO CANNOT WORK

Read Mrs. Corley's Letter and Benefit by Her Experience

Edmund, S. C.—"I was run down with nervousness and female trouble and suffered every month. I was not able to do any work and tried a lot of medicine, but got no relief. I saw your medicine advertised in a little book that was thrown in my door, and I had not taken two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before I could see it was helping me. I am keeping house now and am able to do all of my work. I cannot say enough for your medicine. It has done more for me than any doctor. I have not paper enough to tell you how much it has done for me and for my friends. You may print this letter if you wish."—ELIZABETH C. CORLEY, care of A. P. Corley, Edmund, S. C.

Ability to stand the strain of work is the privilege of the strong and healthy, but how our hearts ache for the weak and sickly women struggling with their daily rounds of household duties, with backaches, headaches, nervousness and almost every movement brings a new pain. Why will not the mass of letters from women all over this country, which we have been publishing, convince such women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help them just as surely as it did Mrs. Corley?

KENTUCKY FARM WOMEN LEARN SEWING METHODS

Kentucky has the distinction of being one of the two States in the Union where farm women receive instruction in clothing efficiency methods, according to Miss Helen Harriman, field agent in clothing from the Kentucky State College of Agriculture. The work was started in November, 1920, at which time 21 women were enrolled in learning methods of making clothing quickly, easily and with good results for themselves and their families. At the present time more than 100 women in the State are taking the work and passing it on to their neighbors. Massachusetts is the other State giving this work to farm women.

Escape the "Stout" Class

An attractive figure is not a matter of size but of correct proportions. The stout women who are never spoken of as "stout" are those who give a little time and thought to proper corseting.

Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets give the wearer an appearance of slenderness. The exclusive Rengo Belt feature gives strength and support where the greatest strain falls—over the abdomen and hips. They have the reputation of being "the most economical reducing corsets ever devised."

COATS HAVE AMPLE LINES

The styles in spring coats may be summed up broadly in the words—"soft fabrics" and "ample lines." Even in utility coats there is a suggestion of the cape and mantle, and pile fabrics, light in weight, but thick and soft are used.

ENCHANTING MILLINERY

Wherever fashionables congregate on an afternoon or evening in the coming summer, our eyes are destined to feast upon such enchanting millinery as that shown above. In this group of four hats both France and America are represented by models that vie with one another. The topmost hat, from Paris, is made of a fabric having black cellophane figures on a henna-colored silk background. Another French hat approves this long draping at the side, as shown in the round hat of navy blue crepe with band of pink crushed roses. Navy blue was chosen, having black cellophane decoration, for its handsome rival with black lace veiling the eyes and America further distinguishes itself in the all-black satin hat with cellophane trimming and long lace veil that finishes the picture.

THEIR SUMMER FINERY

It falls to the happy lot of some designers to occupy themselves entirely with children's millinery and here they present four as pretty hats for little misses as have ever gladdened any eyes. Silk and soft braids, many ribbons and a few small familiar flowers make these pretty hats for the heads of life's springtime blossoms.

IN BLACK AND WHITE

Sports clothes appear to be practicing a certain reticence in the matter of color and for this reason have taken on additional dignity. For skirts nothing is more in demand than black and white in bold checks and stripes and these are worn with black coats and sweater-coats in black, often brightened by white trimming.

Unable to Gain Strength After Operation

Fredericksburg, Va.—"After I had gone through a very serious operation I could not regain my health and strength. I suffered with pains and aches all over and was also very nervous. My mother advised my taking Dr. Pierce's medicine. I took the 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Golden Medical Discovery', alternately, and they soon built me up and seemed to give me new life. I heartily recommend these medicines to women who suffer with any sort of weakness."—MRS. W. S. COX, 908 Hanover St. All druggists.

APRIL 8 PROCLAIMED BIRD AND ARBOR DAY

Bird and Arbor Day will be celebrated in Kentucky, Friday, April 8. Gov. E. P. Morrow has issued a proclamation fixing the date and calling for appropriate recognition of it. His proclamation follows:

"Complying with the wise custom established in the name of the States of the Union, I hereby proclaim Friday, April 8, 1921, as 'Bird and Arbor Day.'

"The preservation of bird life is necessary to the welfare of Kentucky. Birds are friends of man; they are his servants, protecting his crops against his enemies—the myriad insect life which feeds upon the growing things. It is known that the loss yearly to the farmer and fruit grower in the United States through the ravages incident to pests is $1,300,000,000 annually. Birds are the principal protection against these destroyers.

"The necessity of reforestation becomes more and more evident. He who plants a tree not only adds to the beauty of the world, but does a substantial service to his country.

"Therefore, I call upon the people of Kentucky through the press, schools, farm organizations, etc., on the above date to give thought to the necessity of preserving the bird life of Kentucky and to the reforestation of the State; all for the good of Kentucky."

Lucky Marrying Days.

With the exception of the 27th day, March is said to be an unlucky month to be married in. In many countries Wednesday is said to be the luckiest day of the week to be married, and if the 27th day of March comes on Wednesday, the couple who are fortunate enough to be married on that day will be kind and loving to each other to the end. They will also acquire great wealth.

Finest of All Soaps.

The soaps of the Holy land and of the Hellenes have not changed since the days of the Apostles or of Alexander the Macedonian, writes L. L. L. in the Scientific American. They preserve the same simple shapes and forms, and are as innocent of any oil other than the plain olive oil. The ever-fresh fragrance, however, is nature's own peculiar refreshing perfume. The Arab soapmaker's molded trademark and name appear on his goods, in the beautiful Arabic characters of all Eastern scripts the most charming to the eye.

Possible Ancestor of Man.

The skull of an animal which, as shown by the teeth, unquestionably belongs to the great race which includes ourselves and monkeys, and which may therefore be that of an ancestor of man, has been dug up by the Smithsonian Institute in central Montana. But the institute believes the animal was not a monkey. So far as it is known there never were any monkeys living in what is now the United States.

Many Claim Columbus as Native. Italy, Spain, possibly Portugal, and now Corsica (and therefore France) claim Christopher Columbus as their own. An increasing number of historians and scholars in Galicia believe that he was a Galician. The origin of the belief was that one of his ships was called La Gallega (the Galician), and sailed from Pontevedra.

ICE AND MILK MEN DO BIG BOOTLEG BUSINESS

Thousands of pusheart ice peddlers and milk wagon drivers, in New York, astute in sensing trade for spirituous stimulants among their housewife customers, have developed this potential bootleg market into wholesale proportions. Federal prohibition enforcement agents have revealed.

Most of the pusheart ice men, they said, have headquarters in apartment house basements. By a simple working agreement their unseen customers along the dumb waiter shafts are able to make known their real wants simply by answering "yes" or "no" to the ice man's call of "ice?" with a rising inflection.

Milk wagon drivers either carry hip flasks which are sold while on their rounds, or deliver liquor in opaque containers.

One of the only two white kangaroos known in the world has been sent to England from Austria.

PASSENGER AIR LINERS PROMISE TO LINK WORLD

Plan to Fly Giant Dirigibles From London to America, Australia and Africa.

SPEED 60 MILES AN HOUR

Craft, With 100 Passengers Aboard, Expected to Fly From England to California in Four Days—Commercial Airship is Already a Success.

London.—Plans are now under discussion here for linking up all parts of the world by passenger air routes, on which giant dirigibles, flying two miles above the surface at 60 miles an hour, will join London with North America, Australia, India and South Africa. If these plans are carried out air liners 800 feet long, equipped with berths, dining rooms, smoking rooms, libraries and observation platforms, will speed from England to San Francisco in four days, stopping to discharge passengers and mails at New York and Chicago. Each ship will carry 100 passengers, and the fare will be only 50 per cent more than present steamship rates. Ships capable of this service are now in commission, and a trial passenger flight will be made to Egypt by a British government airship to determine the feasibility of opening such passenger routes.

"The commercial airship already has proved its success," said Sir Trevor Dawson of Vickers, Limited, when asked whether he thought the plan practicable. Vickers, Limited, is now building airships for the British government, and Sir Trevor is an expert on the lighter-than-air craft.

"Day of Passenger Liner Here."

"The success of the R-34 showed the possibilities of a transatlantic service," he continued. "It is now only a question of building more and larger ships and equipping suitable landing fields, sheds and mooring stations on both sides of the Atlantic. The airships are speedy, safe and reliable. They can carry large cargoes, have a wide cruising range, and can ride out almost any weather.

"The day of the passenger air liner is here, and if the task of organizing air routes is undertaken by big financial interests it should be possible to begin a regular passenger service over Europe within six months with the ships and bases already in existence. The American service would require somewhat larger ships and landing stations in North America. But it could be in operation in less than three years. We need such a service, and I believe that it will come."

The R-34 is the type of craft suggested for the proposed service, but the contemplated ships, although built on the R-34 lines, would be much larger and have a far greater cruising radius. It is said that a rigid airship could be built that would carry 1,100 feet long, carrying 136 tons of freight or passengers, and having a maximum range of 13,250 miles, cruising radius.

Maitland Supports Project.

Brig. Gen. E. M. Maitland, who commanded the R-34 in the transatlantic flight, is a believer in the plan for world air routes.

"Even the existing airship of today can be regarded as a reasonably safe public conveyance," he says. "They already have proved themselves capable of flying through practically any type of weather, and the larger airships of the future, fitted with more powerful machinery, necessarily will be even safer. Fog does not prove a real menace to airships, as with the present methods of navigation it is not necessary to see the ground in flying between bases. It is true that at present the most violent forms of electric storms are an undoubted danger to all forms of aircraft, but at the most this danger appears to be less than the danger of rocky coasts and shallows to the seagoing ship.

"Airships of this type of the R-38, which is now being built at Bedford, or the German L-71, would be capable of flying from England to Egypt, a distance of 2,200 miles, without a stop in two and one-half days. These ships would carry about 80 passengers, with 100 pounds of baggage for each passenger, and about two tons of mail and merchandise. To put it another way, 15 tons would be available for passengers, mails or merchandise.

"Comfort in aerial travel is essential if it is to have any extended future. The advantage of speed is thrown away if the passenger is physically or nervously exhausted on landing. But ample accommodations can be provided for day and night travel."

Sleepers Are Provided.

A proposed car has been designed by Beardmore, at Dalnair, in which special attention has been given to the importance of giving each passenger a good view. The windows are so arranged that passengers can see both outward and vertically downward should they wish to do so. The passengers sit facing each other with a table between them, rather like a large Pullman car. If they wish, they can arrange the chairs and tables for bridge. "Sleepers are provided in the shape of bunks which fold down and allow the passengers to sleep athwartship. "The whole of the car will be heated by steam generated from the engines, and air will be admitted at the forward end of the car, where it will be warmed over radiators.

"One is struck by the absence of noise or vibration in a large airship, and the absence of smoke or dirt is a great asset. The complete absence of seasickness is also an important consideration."

Craft of the type described by Brigadier General Maitland already have been used in Germany on short passenger routes. The German Air Travel company, formed in 1910 and financed and managed by the Hamburg-Amerika Steamship line, ran regular passenger excursions and town to town services from 1910 to 1914. During this period these airships made 800 flights, carrying 18,000 passengers without a single mishap involving personal injury. One of the airships, the Vittoria Louise, made 200 trips in 250 consecutive days.

The company was able to make a profit, although the passenger rates were reasonable. Since the armistice, despite the unsettled conditions in Germany, airships have been built for a special mail and passenger service between Berlin, Munich and Switzerland. The first of these ships, the Bodensee, ran regularly from June to October last year, carrying 30 passengers a trip. It is said that the Zepplin company is now negotiating with American interests for the organization of an air service from Spain to the United States and South America, and is designing giant ships with a speed of 80 miles an hour for this run. The ships will carry 100 passengers and their baggage, as well as six or seven tons of mail.

Valuable War Reserve Force.

The knowledge of handling the lighter-than-air craft greatly increased during the war. The ships were used under all weather and atmospheric conditions and did valuable service as escort and convoy craft and also in combat against submarines. Small rigid were used to locate and pursue the submarines and were able to detect a U-boat far below the surface. The new ships, in addition to their duties as passenger vessels, can easily be converted to purposes of war and will thus form a valuable air reserve force.

One of the developments recently made in airship landing stations is the mooring mast, which enables the airship to come to the ground and be moored even during bad weather. The mast is a tall structure, with a swivel mooring device at the top, from which the airship swings.

Plans are now being prepared for a mooring tower especially arranged for use with passenger-carrying airships. The revolving head of the mast will be provided with a powerful winch for hauling in and a shock absorbing buffer will enable the ship to be coupled up without difficulty even in winds up to 80 miles an hour. Within the mast there will be a passenger elevator by which the passengers will ascend to an upper platform, where they will cross a gangway and enter the ship.

Pipe lines to carry hydrogen, gasoline and water to the ship also will be run up the mast, and the vessel can thus refuel at her moorings.

Inventions Increase Safety.

Many war discoveries aid in increasing the safety of airship travel. The wireless direction finder makes it possible for the ship to find her location at all times and so navigate successfully in fogs. The increasing range and sources of information of the meteorological service aids in giving weather forecasts that will warn aircraft of approaching storms, which can be avoided by a change of course.

Laboratory investigations are now being made of the nature of the particles of moisture that form fogs, and it is hoped that some way will be found of dispersing fog, so that a local clear area may be maintained about the landing places. All landing places are marked with brilliant electric beacons and lighthouses are being erected to guide night flying ships along aerial routes.

Airships are even now a safe form of travel. When rain, high winds or electric storms approach they can seek the higher air levels and so avoid danger. The risks from fire have been reduced to a minimum, and the danger of engine trouble, ever present in the airplane, is nullified by the fact that repairs always can be made without descending. Rigid airships never have less than four engines, and it is improbable that all engines will break down at one time. Even if half the engines broke down the ship could travel at four-fifths of her normal speed.

Public Demands Speed.

The airship has the advantage over both the airplane and the steamship as a passenger craft. The airplane can only travel 300 miles without stopping at a base for fuel and is thus impracticable for long distance routes. It is, furthermore, of limited carrying capacity, and the disagreeable features of noise and vibration cannot be done away with. The great rigid, moving steadily day and night and having a cruising radius of 2,000 to 3,000 miles, makes a far better passenger ship. It has been suggested that airplane routes could be used as feeders to the airship lines, small airplanes carrying passengers to a central point, whence they could embark on the airships of transoceanic and transcontinental lines.

When the lines are established the steamships also will find them serious competitors. The airship is infinitely quicker and does not have the pitch and toss that makes steamer travel unpleasant. The demand for great liners that cut down the time spent in transatlantic travel shows that there is a large class of travelers who want and will pay for speed. These people will be the clientele of the transatlantic airship.

The shipment of valuables, bonds, stocks and bullion on the speedy air liners will save the money lost in interest, and urgent mails should be shipped in this way. Even at an advanced postage rate a letter of thousands of words could be speedily transmitted in this way at the cost of one word of a cabled message.

Advantages Over Steamship.

The advantages of the airship over the steamship, and also the relative cost of travel are shown in the following table compiled by Brigadier General Maitland:

	Airship		Steamship
England to—	Time of transit, days	Cost of passage	Time, days	Cost, first class
Egypt ....	2½	150	4-6	145-50
India ....	5	100	14	65-70
S. Africa. .	6½	120	17-19	70
Australia .	10½	150	25	115-125

Speed, safety, and a new and thrilling form of travel will be thus combined at a cost that, in view of the saving of time, is relatively little greater than the present steamship rate.

"The continental air routes will come first," says Sir Trevor Dawson, "but the most important part of air travel will be that between Europe and North America. They are the two great continents, the continents that have between them a steady flow of passenger travel. Air travel must come, cutting down the time distance between countries, and thus strengthening the ties of business, trade and international understanding. I am looking forward to the time when air liners will bring London within two days of America."—Otis Peabody Swift in New York Tribune.

LATIN NOT A DEAD LANGUAGE IN KENTUCKY.

Latin may be a dead language, but figures given out by the Registrar of Georgetown College show that it is not passing very rapidly from the High Schools of Kentucky. Ninety per cent of the students who entered the Georgetown College last year offered Latin for entrance. Eleven per cent. offered one year of Latin, 39 per cent. offered two years, 27 per cent. three years and 26 per cent. offered four years. Almost 50 per cent. of the High Schools offer four years of Latin now.

While Latin is not required for a degree (The Degree of Bachelor of Science) at Georgetown, it is interesting to see the number of High School graduates who come to college to take the A. B. Degree with Latin, says the Registrar.

Saw Grandmother's Hand.

Julie has heard her mother say that grandmothers spoil children by letting them have their own way too much. So when she came home from playing with the new neighbor's child the other day and was asked how she liked her, she replied: "Oh, all right; but I guess that her grandmother must have brought her up."

Luck is usually carrying out of well-laid plans. Do not take any stock in the thought that any one has wished you bad luck.

D. E. M.—I see that your question covers too much space.

M. O.—I see that your success depends largely upon the effort you put forward in the direction of the goal of your ambition.

R. G. H.—I see that you are wasting time in even thinking of him. Don't you know that it is not best for you? Surely you have the will power to break off the condition that is now existing, and it will save you many unhappy hours.

TOBACCO MARKET CLOSES

With the sale held on the floors of the Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse Company, Wednesday, the tobacco market for the present season came to a close, after a long period of depression and low prices, which, happily, is not likely to be repeated when the auctioneers and buyers return for the next season. The story of the unlucky season has been told so often in the columns of the local and State press that it is needless to recall it here. Suffice to say that the growers will profit, if they are wise, in the season to come, by the bitter experiences of the past.

Up to the close of the sales Tuesday night the Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse Company had sold at their three warehouses in this city a total of about 7,000,500 pounds of tobacco for an average of about $12.00 per hundred pounds. Up to the same time the New Independent Tobacco Warehouse Company has sold at their three houses a total of about 3,994,000 pounds, for an average of about $12.77 per hundred pounds. As a grand total the six sales houses have disposed of 10,994,000 pounds of tobacco for an average of about $13 per hundred pounds.

At the present writing it would be hard to estimate the acreage of tobacco for the coming season. There is yet a hesitancy among many large growers, who have not indicated whether or not they will devote as much of their land to tobacco this year as they did last.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR PLAYLET

Members of the cast in the High School Senior Class playlet, "Peaceful Valley," which is to be produced here on Thursday and Friday, April 7 and 8, are diligently rehearsing, under the direction of Prof. Edward Saxon, of the Kentucky University.

All the parts in this beautiful playlet have been assigned to capable parties, who will do their best to realize the ambition of Prof. Saxon, and to gain the approval of their friends when the playlet is produced. The playlet is dramatized after the celebrated play of that name, and is bound to make a deep impression on the auditors. Previous High School plays, staged here under the direction of Prof. Saxon, proved to be all that talent, earnest application and merit could make them, and were warmly received by patrons and friends of the Paris High School.
